We invite abstracts for 2nd biennial conference of the Indian Association for South Asian Studies (IASAS) to be held at the Banaras Hindu University on 17-19 October, 2022. This three-day conference will focus on themes related to South Asian Studies and will bring together scholars from across humanities and social sciences.

Although the central theme of second IASAS conference is Global South Asians, the panels and papers can be proposed on any aspect of the South Asian Studies.

The Global South Asians theme explores transformative experiences of those Indians who migrated or travelled overseas, and the memories of those who did not return and chose to stay in their respective host countries. These communities of South Asians abroad struggled to adapt to their new situations, standardizing the languages spoken, and preserving some cultural traditions and folk traditions, whilst discarding others (notably many of the distinctions of caste). In short, forging for themselves entirely new identities as ‘diasporic Indians’.

While Global South Asians: Transformative Experiences theme encourages enquiry by diasporic scholars, researchers and others into the challenges and practical possibilities for diaspora peoples in the social, economic, technological, scientific, medical and entrepreneurial fields, it equally take into account the new frontiers in information gathering, its presentation and new methodologies of sharing research among the millions of Indian diasporic people. Hence, IASAS Conference 2022 aims to provide opportunities for diasporic researchers and scholars to engage in a genuinely global dialogue. In the context of globalizing similarities and differences, such dialogue is increasingly important as it facilitates the development and sharing of knowledge, and the establishment of international collaborative relations. This conference is committed to advancing the achievement of a just, peaceful and progressive diasporic world community through collaboration and dialogue on various issues through the exchange of ideas, concerns, solutions, problems, person-to-person contacts and professional relationships.

Apart from the above central theme, IASAS 2022 conference welcomes panels and papers in English or in Hindi on any theme of South Asian Studies employing interdisciplinary and theoretical perspectives inspired from History, Philosophy, Political Science, Anthropology, Ethnography, Sociology, Psychology etc. Hence, the conference aim is to bring historians and social scientists into conversation with each other. We encourage submissions from research students, early career scholars, faculty members, and independent social scientists whose research falls under the spectrum of South Asian Studies. The conference hopes to generate new perspectives by exploring new as well as alternative and evolving research ideas and methods.
